

Call for Applications: Loyalist College Research Ethics Board (REB) - Subject Matter Specialist

The Loyalist College Research Ethics Board (REB) is seeking passionate and diverse individuals to join our team as Subject Matter Specialists. Loyalist is committed to promoting a diverse and inclusive college community. We encourage and welcome applications from marginalized and equity seeking groups. If you have experience in research or REB activities and specialist knowledge in the field of community health and wellness, we encourage you to apply.

About the REB: The REB plays a crucial role in ensuring ethical conduct in all research involving human subjects. Our responsibilities include:

- Approving, rejecting, modifying, monitoring, or terminating research proposals.
- Ensuring compliance with the Tri-Council Policy Statement on Ethical Conduct for Research Involving Humans (TCPS2).
- Providing continuous review and feedback on research applications.

Commitment:

- Meetings: Held monthly from September to June.
- Time Commitment: Up to 10 hours per month during peak periods.
- Training: New members must complete an online tutorial course on research ethics if not already done.

Why Join Us?

- Contribute to the ethical integrity of research at Loyalist College.
- Engage with a diverse and dedicated team.
- Expand your knowledge and experience in research ethics.

Application Process: Interested individuals should contact Dr. Jessica Becking, Research Coordinator, Applied Research and Innovation, at 613-969-1913 ext. 2406 or jbecking@loyalistcollege.com for more information or to apply.

How to Apply: Submit a letter of introduction and a resume or C.V. We have up to 2 positions available and look forward to your application.

Thank you for your interest in contributing to the Loyalist College Research Ethics Board.
